He is the Word of life. 1 John 1:1

Dear God,

We thank you that you are a God who was seen and heard and touched by the hands of the disciples. Sometimes, it all seems like just a really amazing story ... but then we realize that not only was it the MOST amazing story, it was the truest story that ever existed. The most impactful story that ever occurred. Yet, the story is far from over, and You've invited us into it...

We proclaim to you the One who existed from the beginning, whom we have heard and seen. We saw Him with our own eyes and touched Him with our own hands.

We are then faced with the most important decision of our lives – will we accept Your grace-soaked invitation to step into Your story? Once we accept this invitation, as individuals, believers, and parents, we are faced with an entirely different set of questions ... What character will I play in this Holy Narrative? Do I recognize that I'm the one who was rescued? – will I love and appreciate the Hero? – will I live to emulate Him? Can I accept that I am not the main character? Will I continue to tell the story?

As we enter into a season where we grieve the darkest days in the story that ultimately led to the most incredible chapter in the story, let's remember that every paragraph penned in our story is ultimately a paragraph in His story – let's make our pages count. Let's make every effort to be a little more like Jesus with every page that is turned. Let's surrender our pages to the pen of the One who authored life itself trusting Him with every word, period, comma, question mark, and exclamation mark of our lives. Let's tell the story and invite others to plunge into its pages with us.

As we journey toward the cross and Easter Sunday,
Erica
